UNDERWOOD CASE GOES TO UNITED STATES COURT

APPELLATE COURT YESTERDAY AT FRANKFORT DECIDED BIG DAMAGE SUIT COULD NOT BE HEARD IN STATE TRIBUNAL—REFEREE ORDERED 185 ACRES OF JOHN F. WATSON SOLD FOR CREDITORS—COLONEL HENDRICK SITTING AS SPECIAL JUDGE AT BARDWELL—MANY COURTS.

In the $25,000 damage suit of Pink Underwood's estate against the Illinois Central railroad the appellate court yesterday affirmed the decision of the local circuit court transferring the litigation to the United States tribunal. On the action being instituted here the judge transferred it to the federal tribunal but this was objected to by the attorneys for Underwood's estate, who carried the transfer order to the court of appeals in trying to keep the matter out of the United States court, but the appellate bench by affirming the circuit judge here puts the litigation in the federal court.

Underwood was a fireman employed on the Illinois Central railroad, and six years ago during a wreck down on the Memphis division he was injured in such a way that his lower limbs had to be amputated. He was running on a freight train out of this city and getting hurt, was brought to the railroad hospital here, dying in a few days. His estate then sued for the damages mentioned, but the litigation has never gone to a trial for years, being fought over the proposition to transfer to the federal bench.

Sell the Property.

Referee Bagby yesterday made an order directing the trustee in the John F. Watson bankruptcy proceeding from Livingston county to sell 185 acres of land and also appraise 65 additional acres. When Watson filed his petition in bankruptcy he listed realty of 65 acres, the home place, claiming that was all he possessed. He contended he was exempted the home place, which he valued at only $1,000. His creditors discovered after he had filed the petition that he had before that time transferred 85 acres of land to his nephew and too acres to his wife. They laid this before the referee, who had the trustee to file suit in the Livingston circuit for re-possession of the land, the court ordered the ground put back in the name of Watson, and now it is ordered sold so the money derived can be taken to pay off his debts. The referee directed the trustee to have the home place appraised and if a value above his exemptions is put on it, and the 185 acres does not bring enough to pay off his indebtedness, the home place will be disposed of also. Watson's entire liabilities are only $1,300 and more than enough will be derived from the sales to liquidate all his indebtedness.

Transfers of Realty.

Property on West Broadway has been sold by L. D. Potter to J. B. Richardson for $1 and other considerations. The deed was filed with the clerk yesterday.

J. B. Dycus bought from W. C. O'Bryan for $65 property in the O'Bryan addition.

Andrew P. Humburg transferred to Mrs. M. D. Vandeveld for $375 property on Harahan boulevard.

Indiana Johnson sold to Florence Schulte for $30 property on Jackson near Sixth street.

Sherrill-Russell Lumber company transferred to D. L. Carson for $240 property in Terrell's Fountain park addition.

Property at Eighth and Harris was sold to John Johnson by T. McCollister for $275.

Black Owen sold to Gus and Harry Hank for $225 property on West Clay street.

The Kentucky Realty company deeded to R. L. Johnson for $100 property on the east side of Alexander street in the Moequot and Taylor addition near the union depot.

W. L. Young deeded his interest to Virginia Moore in property at 1013 Madison and also on the south side of Harrison between Tenth and Eleventh, while Virginia Moore deeded her interest to W. L. Young in property, one piece on the southeast corner of Tenth and Harrison and the other piece on the northeast corner of Tenth and Harrison.

Power of Attorney.

Mary Bain conferred power of attorney to George Bain, and the document to that effect was recorded with the clerk.

Special Judge.

Hon. John K. Hendrick yesterday

went to Bardwell to sit as special judge in a big case there. Judge Reed goes out to Benton this morning and if the business has been finished by the grand jury that body will be dismissed, otherwise he will continue them in session until next week.

CHARGES WOMAN BEING DISSOLUTE

SALOONKEEPER JEWELL AND LILLIE CAMPBELL ARE ARRESTED.

ARREST WOMEN AND THE MALE COMPANIONS.

CLOTHES LINE STRIPPED IN YARD OF WHITEFIELD HOME.

Request From New Salem That Janie Nickels and Boss Kyle Be Intercepted.

Saloonkeeper James Jewell of Sixth and Finley streets was arrested by Officers Hill and Rogers yesterday afternoon on the charge of permitting a dissolute female to enter his grogshop. The woman in question is Lillie Campbell, white, and she was arrested also, the charge against her being that of entering the place.

There is a law prescribing that a proprietor or clerk of a saloon shall be fined heavily if they permit women of bad character to enter their place of business, while the measure also provides that the women shall be fined too, she being as guilty as the man.

The police think they will have to make some arrests of the lewd women who have of recent months been making a practice of strolling the principal streets in broad daylight with male escorts, going driving with them and also appearing in other public places. This nauseating practice will be broken up, state the authorities, the laws providing for a fine for both female and male appearing in public together.

Clothes Line Stripped.

The "daylight thief" continuing operating, as yesterday some culprit slipped into the rear yard of the W. G. Whitefield home at Seventh and Kentucky avenue and stripped a line of the washed clothing hung out to dry. The garments belonged to a colored woman residing in the rear yard and the thief doubtless needed many new pieces, as he took the last stitch hanging on the line.

Did Little Cursing.

Walter Shannon, colored, was arrested yesterday by the police on the charge of cursing and abusing Lula Gore, colored.

House Was Searched.

Annie Lee, colored, yesterday got out a warrant and had searched the home of Vinnie White, colored, in looking for much wearing apparel that was stolen from the Lee female's residence. Officer Ernest Hill searched the White woman's place of abode, but the goods could not be located.

For Runaway Couple.

Lieutenant Potter last night got a long distance telephone message from New Salem, Livingston county, requesting that Janie Nickels and Boss Kyle be looked for and intercepted if they came through this city, they having eloped from that village with the intention of getting married. The young fellow is barely out of his teens, while the girl is only fifteen years of age, has black hair and eyes and was dressed in white on leaving home.

ADD "Claims Women Dissolute" Says He Was Robbed.

J. R. Jones, a farmer of Livingston county, complained to Officers Cross and Johnson last night that he had been robbed down about First and Broadway of $34. He was intoxicated and could not give any intelligible account of the affair, hence nothing will be done until today when he sobers up so he can tell of the incident.

Negroes Brought Back.

Chief of Police Egan of Cairo has returned from East St. Louis with the negroes Mitchell and Shelling, who are charged with shooting Officer H. H. Wallace of Cairo, two weeks ago. The darkies got away, but were captured at East St. Louis and brought back. Officer Wallace went to arrest them and they shot him. He is a Paducah man, being son of the late Clint Wallace, for years in the Paducah police force.

Charged With Beating.

Scott Ray was warranted yesterday on the charge of beating and cursing Esther Shelton.

FIGHT BLACK HAND.

New Orleans Italians Organize to Combat It.

New Orleans, June 14.—Official cognizance that a dangerous black hand organization exists in New Orleans was taken by the Progressive Union, the most influential commercial body in the city, comprising a membership of nearly 2,000 business men. President Godchaux of the union issued a call to members to attend a mass meeting which had been called by the wealthy New Orleans Italians in protest against the black hand. This call was precipitated by the supposed kidnapping of 8-year-old Walter Lamana last Saturday night and the subsequent demand for $6,000 ransom from his father, a well-to-do Italian undertaker. Mr. Lamana went to Kenner, La., ostensibly to pay the ransom money and obtain his boy. He returned alone.

President Godchaux said that no home in New Orleans would be safe if outrages recently perpetrated here were not stopped. He appointed a committee to work with the police and Italians.

Several years ago New Orleans was the scene of such serious Italian disorders that it is proposed to run no risk of their recurrence. Recently several minor acts of violence have led to a suspicion that a black hand or some similar society is reviving activity.

ROUSING "OPEN MEETING" BY UNION CARPENTERS

MR. W. D. HUBER, PRESIDENT OF THE INTERNATIONAL BODY, MADE AN IMPRESSIVE TALK TO THE PADUCAH PEOPLE, AND BELIEVES HE CAN SETTLE THE CONTROVERSY WITH THE CONTRACTORS—ADDRESSES WERE DELIVERED BY A NUMBER OF PADUCAHANS AND ORGANIZERS—REPORTS OF MAYFIELD GATHERING.

Hundreds crowded into Central Labor hall on North Fourth street last evening to attend the open meeting held by the union carpenters, who had as their main speaker Mr. W. D. Huber, president of the International Carpenters and Joiners union, who arrived yesterday from Indianapolis, Ind. Much interest was evinced in the meeting, where a number of others spoke also. Many ladies were in attendance and showed the deep interest they are taking.

President Huber made a strong and forceful talk along union lines, showing himself a learned man, well posted and thoroughly competent to be one of the country's leading unionists. His talk was from a business view, to the point and accompanied by facts.

In speaking of the controversy between the union carpenters and the contractors of this city over the new wage scale, he said he had an appointment to meet the people this morning, and believed he would secure a settlement and get the contractors to pay the 37 1/2 cents an hour the carpenters want. If he can not do this, he said they would fight it out with the contractors, as the national executive board had authorized unlimited capital to be placed to support of the Paducah union carpenters in carrying their point. Continuing, he said out of the 230 strikes the carpenters have had over the country during the past year that they never lost a one, and he did not think they would lose the Paducah controversy.

Today he leaves for Owensboro, and from there goes to Louisville on business.

Mr. Roy Morgan, president of the carpenters' local union, presided at the meeting last evening and during the gathering addresses were made by Mr. Joseph Desberger, the Grand leader clothier, Mr. Louis P. Heald, the newspaper man, Colonel Gus G. Singleton, the produce dealer, Mr. J. W. Adams, one of the carpenters' organizers from St. Louis, and Organizer McIntyre for the railway workers. All are strong supporters of the union carpenters in their contention for a better wage.

Mr. Huber said the raise wanted by the Paducah carpenters was so trivial that he did not see how the contractors could refuse to grant it.

Mayfield Unions.

The following extracts are taken from the Mayfield Messenger, commenting upon the speeches of visitors from Paducah, who addressed a meeting there Wednesday night in the interest of union labor, and touching incidentally upon the dark tobacco association and child labor.

Joseph Desberger.

Mr. Desberger said: "I came to Mayfield at the solicitation of the different unions to appeal to the merchants regarding their interest in the employment of union labor. Since I have identified myself so closely with organized labor in Paducah it has made me more friends than anything else. * * * Union labor organizations are the salvation of the laboring man, the salvation of the retail merchant and the salvation of the republic." Hearty applause followed the talk of Mr. Desberger.

Louis P. Head.

"Louis P. Head, a member of the typographical union of Paducah, in his declarations made some killing blows at the non-union theory, and his points in favor of the union were well received and met with the sentiments of all those present. He spoke regarding the bad effects of children being allowed to work in factories where their health was impaired and growth checked by the labor and confinement. He called attention to the fact that typographical unions had 47,000 members and had never lost a fight for their rights. Another good substantial position he took in explaining the value of newspapers and their relations to labor, and that they could not exist unless they were patronized by the merchants. When all parties are organized everything works in union. Mr. Head is a brilliant young man and handles his subject in a masterly manner. He made quite a favorable impression with the Mayfield people."

Claud Johnson.

"Claud Johnson, of Paducah, editor of the Labor Journal, spoke of the system of labor organizations, and explained the benefits derived in divers ways by affiliating with union labor. Mr. Johnson remained in the city today and made a visit among the laboring people, and secured a number of additional names to the various unions. He got enough names today to organize the printers and painters' unions."

"The merchants of Mayfield, with possibly the exception of two, are favorable to the movement just inaugurated and will co-operate with the great movement for the upbuilding of Mayfield."

"The retail clerks organized with 40 members, the garment workers 62, carpenters 35 and barbers 10."

"Joe Desberger was called on to perform a few tragic stunts and his reciting was delightfully enjoyed. 'My Uncle' was one subject, and another poetical production was 'When the Carpenter's Out of a Job,' was a peach, and it took the house by storm."

BUSINESS WOMEN.

Ladies Doing Fine Business at Chautauqua Stand.

The ladies of the Women's Club did a fine business at their refreshment stand at the Chautauqua grounds yesterday, their profits amounting to more than $25, which is encouraging. Those having charge of the stand today are:

Mrs. George Thompson, chairman; Mesdames Muscoe Burnett, Wm. Bradshaw, Wheeler Campbell, Wm. Kidd, Alex. Kirkland, R. D. McMillan, John Keiler, Wilmore Rooks, Mary Watson, treasurer; J. B. Flash, D. C. Wright, E. Fels, C. Sherrill, C. E. Jennings, M. E. Sherrill, Misses Dora Husbands, Jennie Gilson.

Many a man who is the architect of his own fortune gets no further than the plans and specifications.

KIRTLEY PROVED SPEAKER OF GREAT INTEREST

NEARLY 2,000 PEOPLE OUT LAST NIGHT ATTENDING THE CHAUTAUQUA AND ALL WERE REPAYED BY THE GRAND ILLUSTRATED LECTURE BY DR. KIRTLEY—DR. STANLEY KREBS HEARD BY HUNDREDS YESTERDAY AFTERNOON WHILE MRS. FIXEN ADDRESSED ANOTHER LARGE AUDIENCE—ORGANIZE CLASS TODAY.

The second night of the chautauqua was a grand affair, both in point of attendance and personnel of the artist appearing, as fully 2,000 people were on the ground, while Dr. James S. Kirtley proved one of the finest entertainers ever presented in this city. The huge auditorium, that has a seating capacity of 2,500, was nearly taxed, only a few seats being empty and a more satisfied audience never left a place of enjoyment. The immense attendance was nothing more than expected, as the second night is always more successful than the first, as it takes until after the opening night for the people to get prepared for the events and realize appreciably what has been arranged for them.

Dr. Kirtley is an eloquent speaker, possessed of superb descriptive powers and his lecture carried his auditors upon a fine trip through "Yellowstone Park," his remarks being accompanied by stereoscopic views illustrating the different points of interest. It took nearly two hours for him to deliver the address, which was all that could be expected to the extreme.

Just before Dr. Kirtley commenced his talk Miss Ruth Hemenway addressed the concourse, explaining the nature of the physical culture class she will organize this morning, and instruct each morning thereafter until the chautauqua closes. In forming the class the boys over twelve years of age will wear red badges, the women and the girls over twelve will wear white badges and all under twelve blue badges. The class will be organized and instructed upon the dancing pavilion in the grounds, where physical culture exercises will be gone through daily and games of basket ball played. No charge will be made for the instruction, but all those joining must be possessed of season tickets. She cordially invites every boy and girl in the city to join, also as many of the other people as desire.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Stanley L. Krebs made his first appearance, speaking on "Hypnotism and Suggestion," and though it was a day evening, which does not attract as largely as at night, he was greeted by hundreds, comprising an unusually large concourse for an afternoon. He did not disappoint his hearers, who last year noted what a wonderfully resourceful and logical man he was, well posted and thoroughly learned in his subjects, and entertaining at every moment. He is very popular with Paducah audiences and an appreciative fact is that he remains here for quite a number of appearances. Dr. Krebs speaks tonight at 8 o'clock on "Bouncing the Blues," consisting of fun, fact, philosophy, music and mirth. Monday night he talks on "The Psychology of Salesmanship and Business," and as that night the Illinois Central pay car will be here paying off the employees and the retail stores keep open, it is probable that arrangements will be made for Dr. Krebs to stay over until the next day and deliver his address again along this line, because many of the business men and clerks will not be able to get away from their stores Monday night on account of being compelled to remain there and wait on the railroad trade. All want to hear this talk, which is one of the greatest, and an appearance after Monday night will afford all an opportunity to hear him.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon Dr. Kirtley speaks on "In the Barefoot Kingdom," and the success of his appearance last night guarantees an immense crowd for this afternoon, as the laudatory comments heard from hundreds on his appearance last night is advertisement sufficient to fill the auditorium again this afternoon.

Mrs. Fixen.

If it was the purpose of the Chautauqua management to secure the highest possible standard of excellence for the opening of the Chautauqua program, they could not have made a wiser selection than was done in assigning the place to Mrs. Laura G. Fixen.

If her lecture on temperance Thursday was a masterly effort and it certainly was so considered, her address of yesterday morning on "Our Relationship to the Universe," should be pronounced sublime. Indeed, her two addresses were of such a high character that those who are to follow her must look well to their laurels if they would attain the pedestal on which she stands as a teacher of great truths that are to make the world better for their having been taught.

In her address of yesterday morning she said if she were to take a text it would be the words of Jesus when he said: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and thy neighbors as thyself." Grand words that these were never spoken. It is an easy thing to love where love is received in return, to love our own home, our own family, our own friends, our own country, but the highest ideal of the word is not reached in these, as this kind of love is simply an exchange of gifts. All the ages and all religions have taught this kind of love, the love for one's own. Only the Christian religion teaches a higher and greater love.

The world is only in the beginning of a realization of the great significance of the words "to love thy neighbor as thyself."

Who is our neighbor? Our fellow man of every country and every clime. If we love him as we love ourselves we must consider his interests as our own, whether of a social, political or religious character. Nothing short of this will satisfy the divine command. Not only must we love our neighbors with whom we are at peace, but we are also commanded by our divine Master to love our enemies. To obey this command requires the highest fullness of the in-dwelling spirit of love, and if we do not now possess this fullness of spiritual life, it is our duty to cultivate it, to strive for it, to reach out after it. If we do this with our whole soul it will come to us.

When nations rise to this plane there will be no more wars between nations. Such questions as high tariff and low tariff will sink into utter insignificance, and the great question that will pervade all hearts will be how to serve the best interests of our common humanity.

This is no ideal dream. The history of the past ages gives the key to the future. Justice is ever asserting itself and ever in the ascendant. The cruelties and brutalities that met with approval in the past are met with condemnation in the present. The injustice and selfishness of the present will meet with the condemnation they deserve in the future.

America will set the pace as she is doing today. The time is coming when the glorious stars and stripes will not only float from ocean to ocean, but from the mountain fastnesses of Canada and Mexico and all over South America. This is the decree of destiny but of a happy destiny, and all things are working to bring that glorious epoch when men shall learn war no more, when there shall be no more saloons, when brotherly love shall prevail and "Peace on earth, good will to men" will be a blessed, glorious reality.

Mrs. Fixen's manner on the platform is most impressive and inspiring. No one can listen to her without being touched by the magnetism of her presence, without being filled with higher ideas and aspirations. We are sure but one thought pervades all who heard her: "It was good for us that she was called and came."

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Mass Meeting This Afternoon at County Court House.

This afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the republicans of this city and county meet at the county court house for the purpose of selecting twenty-four delegates to represent McCracken county and the city of Paducah at the state convention to be conducted next week at Louisville by the republicans. At the Louisville gathering the party will select the nominees from governor down.

First Christian.

Rev. Samuel B. Moore of the First Christian church, will return today from St. Louis, where he is visiting his family. Tomorrow morning he preaches on "Two-fold Salvation" and at the evening hour on "Hand-writing on the Wall." The Junior Endeavor society meets at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Tenth Street Christian.

Sunday school worship will be held at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Tenth street Christian church, communion at 10:45 o'clock, and preaching at 11 o'clock, Rev. George H. Farley speaking on "Christ in the Cities." At 8 o'clock in the evening his theme will be "Great Catastrophes—Are They Providential?" All are cordially invited to attend.

Evangelist John T. Brown, of Louisville, will begin a series of meetings on the 23rd inst. Mr. Brown scored great victories while on his recent tour abroad, conducting successful revivals in the conservative cities of Adelaide, Brisbane and Sydney, Australia, and elsewhere. We are anxious to secure for him a good hearing on his first appearance.

CHURCH BEING BUILT ENTIRELY BY MINISTERS

Who Are Working Like Beavers on New Kansas City Edifice.

Kansas City, Mo., June 14.—Ten ministers of Christian churches in Kansas City and one evangelist began the work of building a frame church at Fourth and Wyoming this morning. The structure is to be entirely built by ministerial labor, and there will be enough of it up by Sunday for the first services—maybe.

The Roanoke Boulevard Christian church—that's what it is to be called—is to serve the purpose of congregation in the district until funds are raised sufficient to build a more pretentious structure.

Nearly every Christian minister in Kansas City is helping in the work. They arrived at the site early this morning. Coats were discarded, overalls donned and work began in earnest.

Not a man among them is an expert carpenter, but each can drive a nail and saw a board. Besides, the work is done in a systematic way, as it is being directed by W. O. Holdman, a regular carpenter, who was hired to supervise. Hymns were sung and church work discussed as the ministers labored. At noon women members of Christian churches came to the scene of action and prepared a luncheon for the workers, after which the building operations were continued with renewed vigor.

"Of course, it will be a quite simple structure," said Rev. W. F. Richardson, pastor of the First Christian church, "but it will be the only church in Kansas City built entirely by ministers. It will be large enough to seat 300 or 400 persons, and we hope to have enough of it ready by Sunday to give services."

NOTES FROM LABOR WORLD.

The Kansas City Labor Temple association has decided to commence work on its new building.

Henry Carey, who died recently at his home in Indianapolis, was at one time president of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

The International Hod Carriers and Building Laborers' union of America will hold its annual convention in Norfolk early in September.

Judge Cochrane, in the federal court at Covington, Ky., recently upheld the law prohibiting common carriers from discriminating against labor organizations.

Special effort is being made by the American Federation of Labor this year to organize vast masses of women workers throughout the country.

Organized labor in Seattle, Wash., is warning all laborers to keep away from Alaska, on account of strikes, actual and prospective, in that section.

The New York Labor Bulletin, just issued by the department of labor, gives the number of organized men and women in the Empire State as 398,494.

According to John Mee, president of the National Trades and Labor Council of Canada, the Provincial Workingmen's association of Nova Scotia, which is composed largely of miners, has decided to affiliate with the council.

All the linemen in the employ of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company at San Francisco quit work recently in sympathy with the striking girl operators, who sought a recognition of their union.

America is held responsible for the May Day unrest and troubles in France. A Paris paper lays the Labor Day disturbance to the door of the United States, declaring that May Day and the consequent strikes are purely an American invention.

Five thousand push-cart peddlers, members of the United Citizens Peddlers' association, are to enter into a co-operative house on the lower east side in New York City. According to plans the building will cost $2,000,000, and will occupy an entire block.

The first labor-journal ever published in America by a labor union was The Awl, which was gotten out by shoemakers, and was really the grand father of the present Shoemaker's Journal. The Awl was published by the shoemakers of Lynn, from 1844 to 1846.

The Brotherhood of Silver Workers has made a general demand all over the country for a nine-hour workday at ten hours' pay, but has decided to put it into force in New York and vicinity first, action in other sections to be guided by the results there.

It is reported in Chicago that before the end of the summer more than 200,000 unorganized laborers and clerks employed by Western railroads will receive voluntary increases in wages which will average 10 per cent. The aggregate increase will be several millions of dollars.

For the purpose of improving the working conditions of federal, state and municipal employees in the United States, a National Committee on Welfare Work for government Employees has been appointed by the welfare department of the National Civic Federation. Secretary of War Taft is chairman of the committee.

The creation by constitutional amendment of a state court of compulsory arbitration to assume control and adjust all disputes arising between employers and labor organizations is advocated by Governor Gillett of California. The governor has already sketched out a plan of organization of a court of three members, to form part of the judiciary system of California.

Duluth's Fine Showing On Municipal Ownership.

It is no wonder that corporations owning public utilities have a contempt for the public and never hesitate to raise rates and force the consumers to pay them. Here in Paducah a bunch of Boston capitalists bought the power and lighting privileges from a coterie of franchise grabbers and then issued bonds on the investment and at once raised the rates, and consumers of this city are now forced to pay dividends on a lot of watered stock. The little gang that made a good bunch of money by selling out to the Boston people are constantly at work telling the people that for the city to engage in municipal ownership would ruin it. The two newspapers which they control are constantly preaching against municipal ownership, and we are told that every time an article appears in one of those organs to mislead the public, hundreds of extra copies are circulated. Who pays the expense? And why are the corporations, their crowd and their organs so anxious to keep the people in bondage? The answer is simple—the whole people are made to pay tribute to the few and great dividends go into the pockets of the eastern capitalists. What Paducah needs is to own a plant for commercial lighting and power, and to supply its own people with water. In ten years' time, over a million dollars of profits are paid to the owners of the public utilities in this city. How can a city ever thrive and prosper under such conditions? The consumers of this city must get together and force the issue and in that way cease working and laboring for a select few who now have their heels upon the necks of the people.

In a recent issue of the Arena, one of the leading magazines of America, is an article giving the experience of Duluth, Minn., with owning its water and gas plants, and below is found a condensed account of the figures clipped from the St. Louis Republic of yesterday.

We wish to call attention to the fact that the water works is not only self-sustaining but the rates are just one-half of what they were under private ownership, and in less than eight years, the inhabitants of Duluth have saved over one-half a million of dollars on account of the saving in rates alone. If Duluth can cut water rates in half, so can Paducah. Under private ownership eight years ago, the people of Duluth paid $1.90 for gas for lighting purposes and now, by owning the plant, pay but 75 cents or $1.15 less per 1000 feet. In Paducah gas consumers pay just double the rates paid in Duluth, yet the lying corporation sheets of Paducah tell the very people who patronize and sustain them that it is best to have private ownership. Those sheets are enemies of the citizens of Paducah and are working in the interest of corporations. They prefer to see the whole people suffer for the benefit of the few.

If the reader of this article is a gas consumer, please remember that you are paying 100 per cent. more for gas to a company owned by Boston capitalists than you would have to pay if the city owned the plant. If gas can be furnished for 50 cents and 75 cents in Duluth, and still a profit be made, it can be furnished just as cheap in Paducah. The saving to gas consumers in Duluth by reason of cheap rates amounted to over $114,000 last year and in ten years the saving will be $1,140,000. These facts and figures can be easily verified and every consumer in the city should begin to talk and work for municipal ownership of the public utilities. It is true that they will be fought by the corporation organs, the franchise grabbers and the commercial bodies and politicians whom they control, but if the people will stand together they can overcome the great tax that is now imposed upon them for the benefit of the Boston capitalists.

The account of Duluth's experience with municipal ownership as published in the Republic is as follows:

"The gas plant and waterworks of Duluth are operated under one department. For the year 1906 the total income from both exceeded the total expenditures for operation, maintenance and interest by $47,573. $40,768 of this being from the waterworks and $6,805 from the gas plant. Of this amount $40,639 was invested in extensions.

"The water rates are now just half what they were under private ownership. These reductions in water rates have saved to the consuming public, since the change to municipal ownership, over half a million dollars.

"Gas in 1906 was sold at 75 cents for light and 50 cents for heat and gas engines; whereas in 1898, under the private ownership, $1.90 was charged for light and $1 for fuel.

The cost of manufacturing gas has decreased from 49.68 cents in 1899 to 40.52 cents in 1906; the cost of service from 33.64 cents in 1899 to 14.07 cents in 1906; and the interest account from 69.68 cents in 1899 to 17.95 cents in 1906; all per 1,000 feet. The decrease of the two last items is largely accounted for by the increase in amount of gas sold from 25,309,963 feet to 151,004,300 feet.

The cost of the gas plant is given as $615,632.04. Operation, maintenance and interest in 1906 amounted to $109,538.30, of which $61,191.52 was the cost of gas in the holder; $21,244.69 was expended in services, and $27,102.09 paid in interest. Lost taxes would have been about $3,574; and depreciation at 3 per cent, $18,469; a total of $131,581.30. The total receipts were $116,342.75. Comparison made between the 1906 gas rates and those in force under private ownership show a saving to consumers last year of $114,159.28."

Roosevelt As He Is.

One of the most curious studies of modern times is Theodore Roosevelt as a man, author, politician and officer. It is worthy of the pen of Shakespeare himself, and if the Bard of Avon had the advantage of acquaintance with this product of modern America he would have written a play that would have had a greater pattern of intellectual ability and of absolute hypocrisy and innate selfishness than Richard III. This man poses as the apostle of political independence, yet he ever bent an obsequious knee to political bosses when they had anything he desired. A professed non-partisan, he always supported his party's candidates, even to the yellow dog. A free trader, he has ever been for a protective tariff. The mighty giver of a "square deal," he double crosses those whom he bled for campaign funds with the assurance that he was a "practical man," and the request to edit his next message. Sworn to uphold the constitution, he never even seems to know that there is a constitution. He makes alliances with Democrats to clobber his own party men into line and then deserts his allies after begging them to fight to the last ditch. Many more political inconsistencies could be enumerated, but these are enough to lead to the certain conclusion that he may be counted on to do anything he says he won't do in politics.

As a man he stands for decency, honor and obedience to law; here he comes much nearer to living up to his professions. Still, he was a patron of prize fights, and the bearer of concealed weapons. The worst of Roosevelt the man is inordinate vanity, which reaches the proportions of a very mountain of conceit. This together with his fondness for playing to the galleries and his assumption of the infallibility of Roosevelt, are the worst of his personal traits.

As an author he covers a broad field, all of his narratives are tersely and strongly written. If his facts happen to be right, good—if not—you are a liar. His dives into history have brought out everything that appealed to him; left at the bottom most that did not; perverted and distorted all that aroused his antagonism. As a critic his sole contribution to the sum of knowledge is a string of invective. When criticized his immense idea of his own proportions forbids him to do anything but cuss or ascend the pedestal built for the dignity of Theodore Roosevelt. As an officer he has shown all the strut of a Dogberry, the rigidity of a martinet, coupled with ability of the highest order and favoritism of the most pronounced type. His official acts have displayed his love of limelight and the jewel-like inconsistency to his professed rules that marks his political career as the most unique in our history.

In short, we have in Roosevelt's character all of the good professions possible to be crowded into one man's makeup with so many actions that belie the professions that any chemist is compelled to apply the label, "A Blend," if not to require that of "Imitation."

An Independent Ticket.

There is considerable talk of an independent city ticket at the coming election. If there is an idea of an independent ticket the advocates of it must first get together in an organization and map out a campaign. There are hundreds of voters in this city who are not satisfied with the ticket nominated by the democrats and who will not take to any ticket the republicans may put out, but they will not go off after a third ticket unless they are convinced that it has some show to succeed. If the independents' and advocates of municipal ownership expect to get out a third ticket they will first have to organize the city. This takes time and some money. Heretofore they have relied upon a few men to do the work, but that day is past and if the hundreds of citizens who stand for reform, for organized labor and municipal ownership cannot get together they had just as well abandon the fight now.

There is a class in this city who believe in the strict enforcement of the law but they do not seem to have the time to get out and work. Organized labor has its aims and objects, but seems to expect a few men to do its work. The advocates of municipal ownership howl and rail at the corporations but seem to be too busy to get out and co-operate with any movement having for its object relief from the outrageous rates charged by the corporations. Under proper leadership these three elements could be organized into a working body that could sweep the field at the next election for a ticket that would stand for those elements. It takes votes, not talk, to win elections, and if steps are not taken to get the voters together it is but a waste of time to talk.

The little town of Paris, Tenn., has no saloons and owns its light and water plants. According to some of our contemporaries the town should be dead, but it is a very lively corpse, having miles of graveled streets, a fine school system and efficient fire department and a tax rate of $1.15 on the $100. This is a fine argument against local option and municipal ownership. Electric lights cost a flat rate of 20 cents a light per month for 16-candle-power lights.

The second Hague conference convenes today and all people expect much from this body; and their hopes will have ample fruition if they will prohibit the use of force to collect debts owing to individuals by nations.

Nine feet in the Ohio and fourteen in the Mississippi will do more to relieve us from the imposition of railroads than all the rate bills that can be passed.

TO BOOM TEXAS.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 14.—If the entire world does not soon become better acquainted with the wonderful resources of the Lone Star State it will not be for lack of effort on the part of the Texas Five Million club, which began a two days' meeting in this city today. The club was organized at a preliminary meeting held at San Antonio some time ago with the distinct purpose of advertising the resources of Texas and the advantages the state offers to settlers and those desiring to engage in industrial enterprises. The present meeting is well attended by the officers, directors and board of governors of the organization and by other representatives of the agricultural, commercial and manufacturing interests of the state. One of the plans under consideration by the club is the holding of a big exposition in 1911 in celebration of the state's diamond jubilee.

RETAIL MERCHANTS FINISHED THEIR BUSINESS

THE BANQUET AND SMOKER OF LAST EVENING WERE THE FINAL EVENTS OF THE CONVENTION — BODY JOINS
THE NATIONAL FREIGHT ASSOCIATION AND APPROVES
RECIPROCAL DEMURRAGE—GEORGE C. TABB WAS RE-ELECTED SECRETARY.

The Kentucky-Tennessee Retail Coal Merchants' association brought to a close last evening its annual session, which proved a profitable one, largely attended by coal dealers from over the two states. The business was finished yesterday afternoon and at 5 o'clock the delegates took a special street car and toured the city for two hours, being shown all the points of interest, which they hugely enjoyed, and were loud in their praises of Paducah hospitality and predictions of a great commercial future for this city. They were taken through the residence, business, factory and other districts and were surprised that this city held such vastly important industries.

After the car ride the delegates last evening enjoyed a swell smoker and banquet at the Eagles' Home on Sixth and Broadway, this being the closing event of the gathering and nearly all the representatives have returned to their homes now. The others will go today.

The convention opened with a fine talk yesterday morning by Mr.
George S. Chowning, of Shelbyville, on "Our Membership in the Bluegrass," and he was followed by Mr.
Kenneth McGuire, of Louisville, who spoke on "A Word from the Operators of Eastern Kentucky and Tennessee." Mr. Charles Eberhart, of Memphis, reported "A Word from Memphis," this being followed by Mr. Deles Hull, of Chicago, on "What Your Organization Means to You—Increased Membership."

The body decided to affiliate with the National Freight association, believing this will prove beneficial in securing desired legislation, while the question of "short weights" was deferred until the next session.

Mr. George Tabb, of Louisville, was re-elected secretary by the directors yesterday. Heretofore he has been required to tour both states twice each year in looking after the membership and other business, but as this takes too much time, the delegates decide upon a representative for each congressional district to look after certain matters inside his district that the secretary has been looking after heretofore. This relieves the secretary to the extent that Mr. Tabb decided to accept the re-election, he not wanting the place if he had to continue looking after everything in the entire two states.

CORROBORATE ORCHARD'S STORY

BRADLEY INCIDENT FIRST TO BE TAKEN UP BY THE PROSECUTION.

Orchard is in the Best of Spirits
After His Most Trying Ordeal.

Boise, Idaho, June 14.—Additional evidence bearing on the story told by Harry Orchard of his attempts to kill Fred Bradley of San Francisco was introduced by the state today. Laurence Guibbini, the proprietor of the store near the Bradley home, is the first witness. It was here that Orchard says he made his rendezvous while he was watching the Bradley house. Guibbini, an Italian, has been here for several days. He is a small man, quick and intelligent. Orchard, or Barry, as he called himself while he frequented the Guibbini store, made himself very popular with the family. It was the proprietor who went out and secured the room opposite the Bradley house from which Orchard said he could look into Bradley's dining room and gained the exact knowledge that enabled him to plant the bomb at the right time.

Witnesses En Route.
It is unlikely that the state will be able to conclude the San Francisco testimony, tomorrow because two witnesses are on their way from California and will not be here in time. One of these is the woman from whom Orchard rented a room
while in San Francisco.

In the course of his cross-examination Orchard said he had received a registered letter containing $100 from Pettibone. One of the witnesses that was called today is the registry clerk, and it is possible that the tracing of the letter will be a strong piece of evidence.

A witness now on the way is said to be the man who sold the powder with which Orchard manufactured
the bomb.

Being unable to conclude corroboration of the California part of Orchard's story, the state will take up some of the minor witnesses. It is believed that Steve Adams will be located in Ogden by some of these,
but after the San Francisco matter is temporarily passed the evidence will not be of great importance for the rest of the week.

Under Great Expense.
It is possible that Judge West will adjourn court over Saturday, but as the state is under great expense in the matter of witnesses, it is more probable that a session will be held on Saturday in order to dispose of those who are not of first importance in the linking up of the case.
When the court does adjourn tonight or Saturday it will be until Monday afternoon or Tuesday morning, as Judge Wood will have to hold court on Monday morning at Caldwell. The case of Harry Orchard, charged with the murder of Frank Steunenberg, will be called in Caldwell and will be postponed until the next term. The sitting Judge is disqualified and has asked Judge

Wood to postpone the Orchard case.

It was at first the intention of the state to put Steve Adams on the stand immediately after Orchard.
This, however, has been abandoned and no decision has yet been reached as to when the man accused of participation in many of the greater crimes to which Orchard has confessed will take the stand.

In Good Spirits.

Orchard, who reached the climax of his testimony yesterday, and whose sensational story came to an end in a dramatic manner, counsel for the defense leaving him pleading for the life of his fellow-murderer, returned to the penitentiary after he left the court room. Warden Whitney said his prisoner appeared to be in better spirits than he had been for many months. He shows not the slightest evidence of fatigue or nervousness and ate a hearty meal after he reached the penitentiary.

Capt. James McFarland, the famous detective, who has figured so largely in the testimony and who has been attacked by counsel for the defense, prefers not to be interviewed at length on the subject of the Orchard confession.

"It would be superfluous for me to reiterate," he said yesterday. "Orchard has told the literal truth about the confession and the way it was given to me. I made him no promises; I never made a promise to a criminal in my life. Orchard first confessed to me, but said he was not quite ready to give it to me finally."

OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS

MR. BLAINE KILGORE OPER-ATED ON YESTERDAY.

Miss Reubie Cobb Recovering from Effects of Operation—Other Ailing People.

Mr. Blaine Kilgore was operated on yesterday afternoon at Riverside hospital for appendicitis and is resting well. He was stricken the first of this week and had been confined ever since, but the case did not develop to an operative point until yesterday. Dr. Sights operated on him, with assistance of Dr. J. G. Brooks.

Miss Reubie Cobb is able to be up at her home on Broadway and will shortly be entirely recovered from the operation she underwent for appendicitis.

Mr. Frank Burrows, of the H. Weil establishment, is confined with an attack of appendicitis at his residence on Harrison between Third and Fourth streets and may have to be operated on.

Stenographer H. J. Morrison, of Master Mechanic Fulmer's office at the I. C. shops, is cut out on the forehead and his hip badly wrenched as result of being knocked from his bicycle Thursday night as he was near Wallace park enroute home from the Chautauqua. Dr. Fisher, the veterinary surgeon, was driving along the dark road making a hurry call, when he drove into Mr. Morrison, who was knocked unconscious and remained in that condition for quite a while.

Manager Walter McCawley of the Metropolis flour mills is still in a critical condition. He is suffering from lockjaw.

tinues to grow worse with an attack of paralysis.

COMMISSIONER OF COURT OF APPEALS

WILLIAM ROGERS CLAY OF LEXINGTON APPOINTED BY APPELLATE COURT.

To the Place Recently Held by John D. Carroll, Successor to Cantrill.

Frankfort, Ky., June 14.—The Court of Appeals of Kentucky today appointed William Rogers Clay, of Lexington, Ky., as Commissioner of the Court of Appeals, to succeed John D. Carroll, of Henry county, recently appointed to succeed Judge James E. Cantrill, resigned.

It has not been generally known that five days ago the Appellate Court met and decided to continue the office of Special Commissioner, made vacant by the elevation of Judge Carroll to the Appellate bench, but left open the appointment of the commissioner to fill the vacancy, until today.

The office was created at the time Judge Cantrill failed in health, the object being to eliminate the necessity of the Court of Appeals falling behind because of the continued illness of one of its members.

Personal Notes.

Lexington, June 14.—William Rogers
Clay, who was today appointed as Special Commissioner to the Court of Appeals of Kentucky to succeed Judge Carroll, is a native of Fayette county. He attended the common schools of Fayette county in his boy-hood, entered Kentucky University and graduated from that institution with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1884.

In 1888 he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., and returned to the place of his nativity. He came to Lexington from the county in 1890, and was soon after elected superintendent of county schools, holding that office for a period of years. While yet in charge of the schools of Fayette, he was given the degree of Master of Arts by his alma mater.

Mr. Clay continued his educational work for some time, but his love for the law overcame all else and he began regular practice. For the last three and a half years he has been city solicitor of Lexington, and the power and force with which he has upheld the city's interest will be missed, no matter what may be the qualities of his successor.

Judge William Rogers Clay has the confidence of the community in which he was reared, and in which he has made his enviable reputation. Lexington is proud of her distinguished son, and there is none but will do him honor.

WINDSOR RACE MEETING.

Windsor, Ont., June 14.—All that is needed is good weather to make the summer race meeting that opens here tomorrow one of the best ever held in the Dominion. The track is in the best of condition, and the stables are filled with strings of fast horses from Toronto and Hamilton, where the meetings recently closed,
and from Kentucky and other parts of the South.

Six big stake events will be running during the four weeks of the meeting. The first stake is the frontier, to be run tomorrow. It is at a mile and an eighth, and is one of the best known of the northern classics. The other stake events are the Royal Oak Farm stake, for two-year-olds; the Windsor selling, for three-year-olds and upwards; the Ponchartrain stake;
an all-aged handicap, and the International steeplechase.

Mr. Van Nelson has gone to Clarkson, Ky., to visit.

WE USE The KING OF ALL BOSOM IRONERS

WHY?

- First.
Because it irons smoothly, not rough.
  - Second.
The button holes, or stud holes match.
  - Third.
Negligee shirts with buttons are ironed perfectly and without injury.
  - Fourth.
It irons either stiff or pleated bosoms like new, and the "hump" so often seen is missing.
- No other like it in West Kentucky. Satisfy yourself by sending us your laundry.

INITIATION OF LARGE CLASS

SEVERAL HUNDRED KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WILL BE HERE.

LARGE DELEGATIONS COMING FROM SURROUNDING CITIES.

The Odd Fellows Today Take Entire Control of the Fifth and Ken- tucky School Building.

The Knights of Columbus of this city will tomorrow conduct one of the largest gatherings ever held hereabouts, it being the meeting for the purpose of initiating about fifty members into the order, and in order to participate in the gathering about 150 visiting Knights will be in the city, coming from Memphis, Cairo, Nashville, Evansville, St. Louis, Morganfield, Owensboro and other surrounding cities. The swell banquet will be served during the evening at The Palmer, and covers will be laid for several hundred.

The programme for the day is as follows:

9:00 a. m.—Members will assemble in Council chamber and candidates in club room of Red Men's Hall, North Fourth street.

10:15 a. m.—Members and candidates form in line and march to St. Frances de Sales church.

10:30 a. m.—High mass and sermon by Rev. H. W. Jansen of Paducah council. Te Deum by congregation at end of mass. Disperse for lunch after mass.

1:30 p. m.—Members and candidates assemble at Red Men's hall, where the initiation ceremonies will be conducted. All members and candidates are urged to be present on time, so that work can commence promptly.

8:30 p. m.—Banquet at Palmer House and addresses by visiting knights.

Degrees will be exemplified as follows:

First degree by Cairo council; second degree by Morganfield council; third degree by State Deputy John S. Leahy and assistants of St. Louis, Mo.

To Take Possession.

The Odd Fellows today take possession of the Fifth and Kentucky avenue school property which was purchased from the school trustees several months ago, and which has been used by the schools until the end of the term last week. When the negotiations were made for the building and grounds, it was with the understanding that the schools continue in possession of the property until June 15, hence the keys will today be turned over to the lodge and it will assume control.

The Odd Fellows' committee having in charge the question of getting up plans for remodeling the building, has had every lodge to ratify their ideas that were put before the entire brotherhood in pencil sketches. Now the committee will meet one night next week to shape up other ideas and instruct the architect to get up the complete drawings for reconstruction of the house. It will be sometime next month before things are ready for the contractors to bid on the proposed work, and the contracts be let.

The school desks and other equipment will remain in the building until the work of reconstruction is so far advanced that they have to be gotten out of the way.

Rare Metals and Minerals.

(Technical Literature.)

It is not more than a few years since the so-called "rare minerals" first attracted attention outside the scientific world, but within a very short period this branch of the mining industry has become of much importance to metallurgical and chemical industries. The strongest impetus for the search of many of the ores containing rare metals has come from the steel industry and its allied metallurgical branches, and the alloying of steel with the other metals is, in the opinion of many, the most conspicuous proof of the ardent desire of our engineers for progress and improvement.

Influence of Women's Clubs.

(By Mrs. Florence Lee Whitman.)

The club life of today is training women in business methods and in a more judicious management of affairs. It is widening her horizon and giving her a better realization of the large essentials, which heretofore her keen appreciation of details has obscured. It is teaching her to express herself more clearly in public speaking. It is broadening her sympathy and making her more charitable. It is helping her to a better understanding of what is necessary for the ideal home.

Through the club she is beginning to realize that the management of a home requires executive ability of no mean order, and she is learning to employ the same scientific methods in housekeeping and child rearing which are used by the man of business. The result is a happier home, healthier children, and a mother both happier and healthier.

She is learning that running about with a dust cloth all day does not always conduct to the wholesome and happy living of the family so much as a little energetic work for the pure food bill or on the forestry committee.

The clubs of today are turning the attention of women more and more to a study of the things pertaining to the home and the community. No longer are clubs purely literary and social, as in former years. They have become more practical in their aims. In their arts and crafts committees they are teaching women how to beautify their homes.

They are making an earnest study of the servant girl problem in the household economics department; also of what to eat and how to provide better sanitary conditions for the family. They include in their study, too, the public schools and the civic and industrial conditions of the community.

So I believe that the woman's club of today is giving woman a higher sense of honor and making her more reasonable and stronger and nobler in every way.

HOW BRAVE AMERICANS GO INTO FIERCE BATTLE.

Capture of Bishop's Heights—An Incident of Mexican War.

(From "The Mexican War," by Robert McNutt McElroy, Ph. D.)

That night, while his exhausted soldiers were taking their well-earned rest, General Worth was planning a daring movement for the capture of the heights above the bishop's palace. The strength of that position was so great, and its approaches so carefully guarded that the only hope of success appeared to be in a secret and rapid move during the quiet hour just preceding the dawn.

Lieutenant Colonel Childs, with six companies and 200 carefully selected Texas Rangers, was chosen for the dangerous honor of opening a way to the heights above. At 3 o'clock on the morning of the 22d (September, 1846), their movements effectually veiled by a dense fog, the sound of their advance, deadened by the constant patter of a cold rain, the little column moved forward, guided by Saunders and Meade, who knew the exact location and character of the narrow path which they were to follow up the steep declivity. Orders had been issued that the strictest silence should be observed, and without a whisper the men began the difficult ascent, no man seeing his fellows, so dense was the blackness of the night. Over half the ascent had been accomplished, when the ears of the watchful sentinels at the summit caught the sound of tin canteens rattling against the harness of laboring regulars. Instantly the alarm was given, followed by the flash of musketry, which warned General Worth that his secret move had been discovered. At first, no answering shot, however, came from the dark slope, where regulars and rangers crouching low among the rocks and brushwood, toiled steadily upward. Then the anxious watchers on the Saltillo road, heard the sharp crack of the Texas rifles and knew that the height had been gained. Reinforcements were instantly dispatched, dragging or rather lifting, behind them a twelve-pound howitzer. They reached the summit to find the works in the possession of Col. Childs. The Mexicans had stubbornly held their position until the storming party had mounted the breastworks with fixed bayonets, when, panic-stricken, they fled to the shelter of the bishop's palace.

RACE FOR KAISER'S CUP.

Berlin, June 14.—The automobile contest for the German Emperor's cup, the first of the important European road races this year, is being run today over the Taunus circuit, the same as that over which the Gordon Bennett cup event was run in 1904. The number and prominence of the entries has served to attract as much interest as usually centers in the Grand Prix in France and the Florio Cup contest in Italy.

Ninety-two cars representing seven countries are entered, and it is expected there will be at least eighty starters. Considerable regret is expressed over the fact that America is not represented in the contest. Germany leads with 32 entries. France has 21, Italy 19, Belgium 16, England 4 and Switzerland and Austria 3 each.

Most of the famous racing men of Europe are among the competitors. The Darracq company, whose car won the Vanderbilt cup race in America last fall, has a team headed by Wagner, the winner of the Vanderbilt cup. Other famous drivers taking part are Duray, Gabriel and Rougier, representing the De Dietrich company; Lancia, Nazarro and Dr. Weilschott, handling the three Fiats, and Jenatz, driving one of the Mercedes candidates.

The race is about 300 miles over a 74-mile circuit. The starting point is on a plateau between Saalsburg and Kloster Thorn, about sixteen miles from Frankfurt. The course contains a number of straight stretches, over which high-speed is possible. The entire course is guarded by army veterans and the strictest regulations have been made to prevent accidents.

ACCUSED WERE NOT PEDDLERS

WARRANTS DISMISSED IN THE CASES OF WRIGHT AND WESTBROOK.

Court Continued Until Next Monday the Warrant Against Dr. Lillard D. Sanders.

Gus B. Wright and Willie Westbrook were both dismissed by Judge Cross in the police court yesterday morning of the charge of breach of ordinance. It was claimed that they had been selling ladies' waists, pins and other trinkets without first procuring a city license to do a peddler's business, but they showed they were not peddlers, but solicitors, who took orders and later delivered the goods sold. The court dismissed them.

There was put off until next Monday the warrant charging Dr. Lillard Sanders with grading his lot in such a manner as to allow water to back up in an adjacent alley.

George Swift was fined $1 and costs for being drunk upon the streets.

MIKAYAWA DECLINES

To Visit Tokio on Question of Japanese Exclusion Law.

Washington, June 14.—Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, tonight requested the publication of the following statement:

"What purports to be an account of an interview with Viscount Aoki having been published today, the Japanese ambassador desires to state that he has given no interview to anybody. The ambassador would not have felt called upon to point out the baselessness of remark contained therein had it not been for remarks which are directed against a power (Russia) in friendly relations with Japan."

Dr. Misul Miyakawa of San Francisco, the Japanese lawyer who filed the injunction suit against the city of San Francisco school board in the now famous school case, has been asked by the Japanese of the Pacific coast to visit Tokio to discuss the exclusion clause in the immigration law passed at the last session of congress, with a view to removing the ban against the importation of Japanese coolie labor. He, however, has declined the mission, and, according to telegraphic advice, A. Tsukamoto, prominent in the Japanese colony of San Francisco, has been selected as the envoy who will visit Tokio.

Dr. Miyakawa says he greatly deplores the agitation in the American and Japanese press. Dr. Miyakawa is a personal friend of Count Okuma, leader of the Progressives, and of Marquis Ito.

No Occasion for Alarm.

London, June 13.—The Japanese ambassador, Baron Komura, today issued a statement to the press, reciting the facts in respect to the attack on the Japanese restaurant in San Francisco May 20, the negotiations which followed between Washington and Tokio, and concluding as follows: "As you will observe from the above statement, the whole matter is pursuing its normal course, and there is absolutely nothing which would in the least justify the alarmist rumors emanating from irresponsible sources."

Confers With Root.

Washington, June 14.—The Japanese ambassador had a long talk with Secretary Root today at the state department, but pursuing the policy which he has recently adopted, Viscount Aoki refused to make any statement as to what had taken place.

"THIS IS MY 71ST BIRTHDAY"

—Admiral Freemantle.

Admiral Sir Edward Freemantle, a noted British naval officer and a recognized authority on naval architecture, was born in London, June 15, 1846. He entered the British navy in 1869, when twelve years old, and was promoted through the successive grades to that of rear-admiral, which he attained in 1901. During the past half-century he has seen service under the British flag in every port of the world, has received the thanks of parliament for distinguished service and been decorated by his sovereign. He took part in the Burmese war in 1852, in the New Zealand war of 1864-66, in the Ashanti war ten years later, in the blockade of the East African coast in 1888 and in the Vito punitive expedition in 1890. He has served as commander in chief of the British naval forces in the East Indies and in China and as commander of the channel squadron. Recently he has been publishing some of his experiences and observations. He agrees emphatically with President Roosevelt that "the naval officer of the future must be a fighting engineer."

The Business It Hurts.

"It is one of the most ridiculous things in one's experience when some fellow shouts out that shutting up a whisky shop on Sunday 'hurts business.' It may hurt the saloon business. That's all."—Ohio State Journal.

favours Confederation of Central America

Mexico City, June 14.—Late this afternoon the following cablegram was received in this city from President Zelaya of Nicaragua:

"The revolution headed by Dr. Alfara has assumed significant proportions. He is in favor of the confederation of the Central American republics."

Dr. Jose de Dolores Gamez, secretary of state of Nicaragua and a close friend of President Zelaya, who arrived in Mexico City yesterday, bringing a message from President Zelaya to President Diaz, said today:

"Nicaragua is taking no part in the revolution in Salvador. The movement is wholly a revolutionary one, without outside aid. Nicaragua sympathizes with the revolutionists because our country is anxious to see a firm government established in Salvador, but is taking no hand in the movement in any way."

Mr. Gamez denies that Nicaragua furnished the gunboat Momotombo to the Salvadoran revolutionists, and declares he has received reliable advice to the effect that the boat was stolen as it lay in the harbor of Corinto alongside several other Nicaraguan vessels. This statement is laughed at by those who claim to be familiar with the situation. Alberto Mambreno, a Honduran exile capitalist and former well-known diplomatist, discussed the statement, saying:

"Nicaragua gave one of her gunboats to the revolutionists for the purpose of capturing Acajula, and it would have been impossible to get the boat out of the harbor without the consent of the Nicaraguan authorities. The harbor is small and there is a large garrison there. It is ridiculous."

"Nicaragua is trying to have the world believe what she knows it will not believe."

Mr. Mambreno says that Honduras is in favor of confederation and that he hopes to see all the Central American republics united under one central government soon.

He was at the state department for several hours today. What transpired at the conference was not made public. As regards the confederation of the Central American republics, Mr. Gamez admits that the cause would be furthered by the victory of Gen. Alfara, who is known to be President Zelaya's choice for president of Salvador.

RICHMOND DAY AT EXPO.

Norfolk, Va., June 14.—A distinguished delegation from the state capital, aided by scores of enthusiastic visitors from other cities of the Old Dominion, united to make Richmond day at the exposition one of the most conspicuous successes of the fair up to the present time. The visitors were welcomed by President Tucker, to whose address Mayor McCarthy of Richmond responded. After the formal exercises were concluded the visitors proceeded without delay to take in the sights of the exposition.

SCHMITZ, MAYOR OF SAN FRANCISCO, CONVICTED

EXTORTION IN SECURING MONEY FROM FRENCH RESTAURANT IS HELD PROVED—WILL ASK NEW TRIAL—SENTENCE IMPOSED JUNE 27.

San Francisco, Cal., June 14.—The Schmitz jury, after deliberating for exactly two hours, brought in a verdict of guilty against the defendant. The jury came into the court room exactly at twenty minutes after eight.

The defendant was present with his attorneys and a large crowd of the curious who remained to await the return of the jurors.

When the verdict was read Mayor Schmitz's face turned pale and he trembled violently. He appeared on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

The defense will ask a new trial. Judge Dunne ordered Schmitz into the custody of the sheriff. Sentence will be imposed June 27.

It required only two ballots to reach a verdict.

On the first ballot, which was an informal one, the vote stood 11 to 1 for conviction.

The twelfth juror was in doubt on a technical point. A discussion followed and on the second ballot the jury agreed for conviction.

The announcement of the verdict was his individual verdict.

The mayor was remanded into the custody of the court.

Case Goes to the Jury.
The case of Mayor Schmitz went to the jury in Judge Dunne's court at 6:30 o'clock tonight after a day spent in closing arguments by the leading attorneys for the defense and prosecution.

Judge Campbell, for the mayor, occupied the morning session with an eloquent appeal for his client before a packed court room and long before the opening of the afternoon session the largest crowd that ever attended a trial in San Francisco had gathered at the Bush street temple to listen to Francis J. Heney's arraignment of Mayor Schmitz.

Men fought for position in line and hundreds packed the street in front of the doors, unable to get in. A sergeant of police and a big squad were necessary to keep the crowd in order. Many prominent society women, well known business men and leading attorneys were in attendance.

Heney began in a modulated tone, but gradually his voice rose to a thunderous pitch as he denounced members of the mayor's counsel and hurled back charges that had been made against the prosecution. He reviewed the entire case from start to finish, interspersing stories to illustrate his points. His argument throughout was clear, concise and forceful.

Pays Compliment to Campbell.
In opening Mr. Heney paid his compliments to counsel for the other side as follows:

"I told you in my opening statement we would endeavor to prove the mayor was guilty of the crime of extortion. I told you that all we asked was a square deal for the people as well as for the defendant. Only that and nothing more."

"There is one attorney on the other side who has tried this case like a lawyer. That is Mr. Campbell. He has tried the case squarely in his issues. He has fought fairly and hard for his client."

It is a pleasure to meet a man who will fight squarely, who does not deal from the bottom, who does not malign the district attorney or Mr. Spreckles. I say it is a pleasure to try the case against an attorney like Campbell, and I leave it to you if I haven't met him half way.

"But there was one attorney for the defense who started out and endeavored to prejudice you against me, against this case and against the prosecution. He told you I was sitting on the lap of Mr. Spreckles. Mr. Barrett knows that I sit in nobody's lap and that nobody can sit in my lap."

"No one can bulldoze me or swerve me from my duty. You could stand there with a dozen cannon loaded with buckshot and it would not scare me or drive me from my duty one inch. But I didn't suck the municipal pail for four years like he did, nor have they shown you where any one of the prosecution has sent Henry Lynch, a railroad hireling to pull down a witness."

Answers "Nasty, Cowardly, Fling."
"I fling back the scurrilous, cowardly and dirty attacks that have been made upon the prosecution. Just one more word to make answer to the nasty, cowardly fling at District Attorney Langdon. No one knows better than Mr. Barrett that there are over a hundred indictments now pending. No one knows better than Mr. Barrett that these involve others; no one knows better than Mr. Barrett that the District Attorney is being subpoenaed from court on these cases."

"No one knows better than Mr. Barrett that Mr. Langdon wasn't able to make the opening statement as he had planned owing to the fact that he was attending a meeting of the grand jury. Mr. Langdon is his superior and is able to take charge of any case."

"He invited me to join in this prosecution because I had experience with criminals who had political influence and power and money to burn; an experience with men who are accustomed to send Southern Pacific railroad hirelings to pull down witnesses; men who use a chief of police to look up jurors; men who can bring every influence to bear on the chief justice; men of wealth who strive to make a laughing stock of the law for the rich and powerful and oppressive to the poor."

"No one knows better than Mr. Barrett that they cannot buy me; they cannot give me a fire commission under a dirty administration, because they know I would not take orders. Ruef, this Napoleon of crime, as Barrett calls him, he knows wouldn't consent to my appointment as a fire commissioner, because he couldn't have anything to do with any dirty work."

PROPOSITION OF JAPANESE

CONCERNING EXCLUSION OF JAPANESE FROM THE UNITED STATES.

Representative of California Japs Suggests a Boycott of American Goods.

Tokio, June 14.—The proposal first advanced by Count Itagaki, that The Hague conference deal with the question of exclusion of Japanese by the United States, has given rise to considerable discussion in Japan. The idea is approved, but its feasibility is doubted by diplomats, who think it unlikely that instructions to press the matter have been given to the Japanese delegates. However, it is believed they may be later.

Count Okuma and other leaders in the present anti-American agitation say they would rejoice in the issue being precipitated at The Hague, not only for political effect, but in the belief that it would bring America to a realization of the intensity of Japanese feeling regarding anything smacking of unfriendly discrimination.

While, as has been explained in these dispatches, 90 per cent. of the present agitation is due solely to internal politics, still the outburst has served to emphasize the extreme sensitiveness of the Japanese to everything relating to their standing before the world. America's refusal to naturalize the Japanese is particularly a sore point, and is continually showing itself in discussion.

Count Takaaki Kato, parliamentary leader of the Progressives, makes this the center of his grievance against America. He tracks Foreign Minister Hayashi to task for asserting that too great insistence upon naturalization is tantamount to acknowledging the weakness of Japanese patriotism. He declares there is no such weakness, only a demand for a right guaranteed by the most favored nation clause, but withheld.

Under the leadership of Count Okuma's organ, the Hochi, continues its anti-American attacks, but the more influential papers are conservative. Progressist committees continue to attack the Hayashi policies, demanding more aggressiveness and a change in the ambassador at Washington. Conservative party leaders are worried at the outlook, but are taking no active part in the agitation, save to criticize the Progressives for playing politics with a grave international question.

It develops that Yamaoka, the representative of the American-Japanese from California, is an emigration agent, and his disinterestedness is being questioned. Yamaoka is now endeavoring to develop a boycott of American goods. He is making no apparent headway, but in view of the present situation, sentiment may develop.

The yellow press magnifies every episode to fan the flames of popular feeling. Owing to the agitation, but little space is given to the details of Gen. Kuroki's visit, and the expected good effect is not apparent.

TAFT VISITS ST. PAUL.

St. Paul, Minn., June 14.—Secretary of War Taft paid a visit of inspection to Fort Snelling this morning and later arrived in St. Paul to spend the day as the guest of the Commercial club of this city. He has arranged to leave this evening for the Dakotas.

Italian Olive Oil

TUNIS BRAND
IS PURE—ABSOLUTELY SO

Any article with the Cooban guaranty of worth may be absolutely depended upon. We guarantee the purity of our Olive Oil, for we know all about it. The market is flooded with adulterations of Olive Oil—worthless concoctions very liable to damage the human system. Cottonseed oil, because it offers a good profit and which is practically indigestible, is often mixed with Olive Oil and the mixture palmed off on the unsuspecting customers calling for Pure Olive Oil.

Know what you are getting—know from whom you are buying. This is good advice. Our imported Olive Oil is pure, absolutely so. Booklet upon request.

WONDERFUL ACHIEVEMENTS OF SANITARY SCIENCE.

Tropical Countries Will Within Next Few Centuries Be Centers of Culture, Wealth, Civilization and Population.

New York, June 14.—Col. Wm. C. Gorgas, U. S. A., Federal Commissioner in charge of the sanitary department in the Canal Zone, addressing the graduating class of the Cornell University Medical College here, prophesied that "gradually within the next two or three centuries, tropical countries, which offer a much greater return for man's labor than do the temperate zones, will be settled by the white races, and that again the centers of wealth, civilization and population will be in the tropics, as they were in the dawn of man's history, rather than in the temperate zones, as at present."

Col. Gorgas bases his opinion on the sanitary achievements since the American military occupation of Cuba in 1898, and those in the Canal Zone, in May, 1904. The last case of yellow fever in the Canal Zone, he said, occurred in December, 1905, which was only about sixteen months later. He described the war of annihilation waged against the yellow fever mosquito and against the malaria mosquito and continued: "We have had no yellow fever anywhere on the isthmus for more than a year. We believe that in the towns of Panama and Colon the yellow fever mosquitoes have been so reduced in numbers—in fact, almost exterminated—that yellow fever would not spread if introduced. Malaria has been so controlled that the sick rate of our total force for the month of April, 1907, was less than 17 per 1,000."

THREE WOMEN BURN TO DEATH.

Two Men Receive Serious Injuries—Fire at Shaker Settlement.

Cincinnati, June 14.—Three are dead and two seriously injured as the result of the burning of the four principal buildings of the Shaker Settlement at Whitewater village, near Harrison, O., early today. Fire was discovered in the main building, probably originating from a defective flue. The flames spread with great rapidity and the means for fighting the fire being inadequate, there was no hope from the start of saving the structures. Mrs. Kuele Bear, Katherine Sterr and Mary Middletown, three aged women who occupied quarters in the main building, were burned to death before anyone could arouse them. Chas. Sterr and Andrew Bass, in making their escape from the burning buildings, were seriously injured. Sterr was injured in an endeavor to reach the safe in the
